by Barefoot. THEATRICAL - Miss LOGAN was very enthusiasti cally received at the Adelphi on Monday night .--The audience was large and fashionable, and evinced in a very decided manner; its appreciation of Miss Logan's efforts. The character of Evadue was, as a whole, admirably conceived and happily executed. We think, indeed, we have seen Miss Logan give more satisfaction in the beautiful "statue such as to disarm criticism. Mr. Vance succeeded very well in the character of Ludovico. We are pleased to say that Mr. V's style is much improved of late. He doubtless has the requisite talents for a good actor, if he will only judiciously employ them. He still has many disagreeable faults to shake off, and we trust he will see the propriety of doing soo. He should bear in mind, especially, that undue contortions of the body, or of the "human face divine" are disagreeable, and all vant abominable.

The farce of "Dumb Belle" was capital. Miss REIGNOLDS, Mrs. CARPENTER and Mr. BRUNTON, gave entire satisfaction in their parts. But Mr. GREENE, as Sargent O'Smirk, afforded the chief amusement. In such characters be can't be beat.

- To-night, we have the beautiful play of the Hunchbook, which we are sure will draw out a large crowd, Julia is one of Miss Logan's favorite characters, and we expect to see her render it, on this occasion, in a most admirable manner. We bespeak for her an audience worthy of her great talents.

We regret that we are not able to chronicle an abatement or decline of the pestilence. On the contrary, it will be seen by the sexton's report for the two last days, that it is marching onward with fearful terror, and seems to gather strength and power as it progresses in its work of distress and desolation. As it grasps it victims it acquires a fresh love for food, and seizes each new one within its influence with as savage flerceness as the last Other neighboring cities and towns (and even the country, in the county of Claiborne) are similarly afflicted. In Port Gibson, Grand Gulf, Yazoo City, Are, we learn that it rages with like violence, and that the citizens are fleeing in every direction.-Even in Jackson and Raymond, we are told that it has made its appearance, and created the greatest consternation.—Vicloburg Whig, 15th,
